

04.07.2024

Raising employee awareness in SMEs

Although technical and organisational protection measures are important, they won't be sufficient to provide a holistic approach to information security. Employees should handle all technological facilities properly and behave securely in day-to-day-business. This is why training and awareness-raising measures (collectively termed "awareness") for employees play such an important role, too, and should not be neglected.

Read our new article \(https://www.ebas.ch/en/raising-employee-awareness-in-smes/\) to find out how you can raise awareness amongst your employees.